

EVICTIION PROCEDURE

Visitors who fail to abide by the Library's Code of Conduct and policies are subject to having their Library privileges suspended and/or being evicted from the premises of the Toledo-Lucas County Public Library.

Eviction or suspension of library privileges will be based upon the attached administrative procedural guidelines. Evictions and suspensions may be decided upon and imposed by the Director, Deputy Director, Extension Manager, Assistant Extension Manager, Main Library Manager, Branch Library Managers and Assistant Managers, Main Library Department Managers and Assistant Managers, Security Operations Coordinator, off-duty police, security officers, and/or the designated Person-in-Charge. These designated staff may exact evictions for up to 7 days. Anything over 7 days shall be referred to the Security Operations Coordinator.

In situations where visitors refuse to comply with an initial verbal warning to cease their inappropriate behavior, they may be evicted according to the attached guidelines recommended under the second violation for infractions.

Documentation: For verbal warnings and one-day evictions, designated staff shall document the eviction by listing date, infraction, name and staff initials in an agency Eviction Log Notebook.

An Unusual Occurrence form will be written for improper conduct and evictions over one day and will be sent to the Security Operations Coordinator, Extension or Main Manager and Finance Office. The Security Operations Coordinator shall notify the expelled visitor in writing about the reason(s) for and the length of the eviction. Letters only will be sent for evictions over seven days and will include a statement of the appeal process.

Staff should warn visitors immediately when improper conduct is observed or reported, so visitors have the opportunity to correct their behavior. Another staff member should witness warnings and evictions issued to a visitor whenever possible.

Staff should attempt to identify the evicted visitor by name. If additional information can be obtained, such as address, telephone number or library card number, staff should record this information as well.

Staff in agencies without security officers should contact the Security Operations Coordinator, the Main Library Security Office, the local police department or use the agency's panic button if unusual or potentially dangerous situations arise with an eviction of a visitor.

Unusual Occurrence forms shall be forwarded to the Security Operations Coordinator with details of the improper conduct and/or eviction, including the date, time and location of the situation on the Library's Report of Unusual Occurrence (R 7/94 18-04). The Security Operations Coordinator will keep these reports on file.

In some instances, the repeated misbehavior of visitors or the seriousness of their actions may indicate that a longer eviction than that in the administrative guidelines is appropriate.

In such circumstances, the visitors committing the infraction should be advised that they are evicted until their case is reviewed with the Security Operations Coordinator. The Security Operations Coordinator should then be contacted about the visitor. The Security Operations Coordinator is authorized to extend an eviction period up to one year, where justified. Eviction periods of more than one year require the approval of the Director.

In cases where the patron disagrees with Library action, he or she can send a letter of concern to the Director's or Deputy Director's office (325 Michigan St. Toledo, OH. 43604) within seven days of receipt of the information letter.
